

Argument Over Gag On Filibusters Not Settled In Senate

By EDWIN B. HAARINSON
Washington, March 17 (AP)—The long argument over a change in Senate rules to curb filibusters rumbled on today even though the issue is settled. Truman Democrats, who lost their case, were still resentful.

A confident alliance of 22 Republicans and 30 Democrats—more than enough to decide the issue—asked only one question: When do we quit talking and start voting?

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois—who owns the title of majority leader—promised a vote today leading up to the Republican-southern Democratic version of how to gag Senate debate.

Lucas freely and sadly admits he has lost the Truman fight. That campaign was to tighten up present debate limitation rules in an effort to later push through the Truman program for civil rights legislation.

But a half-dozen senators—who did not join in the Dixie-GOP combine to settle the filibuster issue—still wanted a chance to explain why and take a few verbal pot shots at the winners.

They include Senators Myers (D-Pa.), Douglas (D-Ill.), Pepper (D-Fla.) and Neely (D-W.Va.).

GOP Policy Chairman Taft (Ohio) also had his name on the speech list.

But Republican Floor Leader Wherry (Neb.) and Senator Russell (D-Go.), strategy chief of the southerners, said the compromise plan is certain of victory when the showdown arrives.

Under it 64 senators—or two-thirds of the membership if all 98 places are filled—can vote to limit debate at any time on everything except one matter. That is any future move to change the Senate's rules.

Russell said southerners accepted this compromise because it preserves the filibuster weapon against any future moves to let a bare majority of 49—or even as few as 25 senators if only a bare majority is present—to gag the Senate.

Holy City Divided By Arabs And Jews

New Armistice Line Cuts
Through Jerusalem

By L. S. CHAKALAS
Rhodes, March 17 (AP)—Israel and Trans-Jordan agreed last night on armistice lines dividing the Holy City of Jerusalem between them.

They left the issues of mutual use of roads and accessibility to Holy Places for future settlement. Jerusalem is sacred to Christians, Muslims and Jews.

The agreement, based on their Nov. 30 truce lines, covers the entire Jerusalem sector. It establishes an armistice line that starts at a point near the village of Al Walaia southwest of Jerusalem, cuts through the Holy City and swings back to the west, completing a semi-circle, an Israeli spokesman said.

Israeli and Trans-Jordan emissaries are scheduled to make immediate flying trips to consult their home governments concerning a long list of differences which still confront the armistice negotiators here.

Although agreement on the Jerusalem sector lines marks definite progress, the road to peace in the Holy Land still is strewn with many obstacles.

Revival Of Cusino Station Is Vetoed

Spot Near Shingleton
Proposed By Ruhl

Lansing, March 17 (AP)—A proposal to spend $100,000 to reactivate the Cusino Wildlife experiment station for work on Upper Peninsula game was turned down yesterday by the conservation commission.

The commission asked the game division to make up a new recommendation for starting an Upper Peninsula experiment station. It was suggested that the station be set up in a community where housing for personnel could be rented and thus hold down the cost.

Game Chief Harry D. Ruhl proposed that the Cusino station be moved near Shingleton and that a combined laboratory, office and dormitory, two residence buildings and a combined garage and equipment building be built.

The commission approved exchanging 47,000 acres of state-owned land in the Ottawa forest for 7,500 acres of federal land in the Porcupine Mountains and 78,000 acres of state lands in 13 counties for 25,000 acres now leased from the federal government in the Algonquin forest.

The legislature was asked by the commission to pass a new law making it illegal for anyone to carry a gun in hunting territory unless he holds a hunting license. In addition, the proposed law would forbid anyone without a deer license to carry in a deer season any gun larger than a .22 rim fire or shotgun with buckshot, ball load, slug load or cut shell.

New Charges Filed Against Girl, 27, In New York Spy Case

Washington, March 17 (AP)—The government today moved to rearrest 27-year-old Judith Coplon, until recently a justice department employee, after charging her with specific acts of spying against the United States.

A federal grand jury here late yesterday returned a second indictment against the young woman. She was first arrested 14 days ago in New York city along with Valentine A. Gubitchev, 32, Russian engineer employed at United Nations headquarters.

The two were jointly indicted by a New York grand jury last week on espionage conspiracy charges.

The new indictment in the District of Columbia specifically accuses Miss Coplon, former political analyst in the justice department's foreign agents registration section, of copying and removing official department documents. It alleges she acted "with intent and reason to believe the information was to be used to the injury of the United States and to the advantage of a foreign nation."

Highway Collision Near Paw Paw Kills 2 Men; 3 Badly Hurt

Paw Paw, Mich., March 17 (AP)—Two men were killed instantly and three others are reported in a critical condition in Lakeview hospital here as the result of an automobile collision two and a half miles east of Paw Paw on US-12 this morning. State Police of the Paw Paw post reported the accident due to ice on the highway.

Complete details of the accident were difficult to obtain, as officers were unable to question the survivors at any length.

The killed were identified as Ted Poczobit and Charles Sowinski, both of Paw Paw. Their ages had not been determined at 8:45.

The injured, all reported in serious condition, were identified as Adam S. Wojciechowski, 26, and his brother, Walter 23, of R 2 Paw Paw, and Paul A. Richards, 36, of 3115 West Michigan avenue, Kalamazoo.

Republicans Trying To Steal Williams' Thunder At Lansing

Lansing, March 16 (AP)—Republicans in the legislature have launched their big push to put across their own version of Governor Williams' legislative program.

A caucus of House Republicans met last yesterday that measures providing for a fair employment practices commission and increased unemployment compensation benefits were being prepared for introduction by Republicans.

The majority was also urged to back Senate Republican bills providing for a three-man, full-time corrections commission and increased workmen's compensation benefits.

The Republican policy committee announced it would hold weekly meetings on Tuesday evenings for the balance of the session.

The meetings will be followed by Republican caucuses in an effort to grease the wheels for passage of the G. O. P. bills.

The committee, made up of G. O. P. legislative leaders and state officials, seeks to lead the party in the absence of a Republican governor.

The four measures under current discussion all have their counter-parts in somewhat different form in Democratic bills already introduced.

The majority, however, would like to steal the thunder of Governor Williams and the Democratic legislators by sending through their own bills.

The unemployment compensation measure was being drafted by the Senate Labor Committee.

Reps. Howard R. Carroll (R-Mt. Clemens), John W. Bannasch (R-Jackson) and A. P. Decker (R-Decker) were working on the FEPC measure.

The House caucus yesterday decided that all controversial measures will be brought before the caucus before they come to a vote on the floor.

Meanwhile, the State Affairs Committee, headed by rock-ribbed Republican Rep. Bert J. Storey, of Belding, announced it would hold a public hearing Wednesday on the Democratic FEPC bill.

Little Fellow Gets Rap In Coal Tieup

Miners Feel Pinch; Fuel
Bins Running Low

By BART HICKMAN
Pittsburgh, March 17 (AP)—The coal mine shutdown—now in its fourth day—finds industrial spokesmen certain of only one thing, the little fellow will be the biggest loser.

John L. Lewis' two week "memorial" work stoppage started with better than six weeks' coal supply above ground. Many big industries had accumulated comfortable stockpiles.

But the householder with a two-ton coal bin felt not so comfortable. And small coal dealers said their supplies were already running out.

Other industry spokesmen foresaw hardship for the individual instead of the big consumers. Ralph Taggart, chairman of the anthracite operations association at Wilkes-Barre, demanded John L. Lewis end the work stoppage.

In a telegram to the labor chief, Taggart said, "homes, hospitals, schools, and other public institutions are now short of fuel."

Coal miners themselves were feeling the pinch. The pre-Easter wage loss meant many wives and kids would be wearing last year's finery on the holiday.

Families of more than 67,000 railroad workers, laid off because of mine shutdowns, would be in the same fix.

President Truman May Strike Back At His Balking Congress

Two Big Fish Caught On Florida Vacation

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Key West, Fla., March 17 (AP)—President Truman indicated willingness today to strike back at a revolting congress.

This was the interpretation of his associates placed on his announcement he will hold a news conference at 9:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow at his winter White House on this naval submarine base.

The president called the conference late yesterday upon his return from a two-hour fishing trip in which he caught a 16-pound barracuda and a grouper of equal weight.

Mr. Truman had nothing to say about administration rebuffs in congress when he returned from his fishing.

There has been much speculation whether he will carry out his recent threat to make a train trip across the country to air his differences with the 81st congress in language similar to that he used during the 1948 campaign which ended in the defeat of the Republican-dominated 80th congress. He called that one of the second "worst" in history.

The prolonged filibuster, led by southern senators, a watered-down rent control bill with a local option clause, bitter opposition in congress to the Truman-sponsored repeal of the Taft-Hartley act and the tabling by the senate armed services committee of Mon C. Wallgren's nomination are among his grievances with congress.

Wallgren, his close friend and former governor of Washington state, was nominated as chairman of the National Security Resources board.

The president is returning to Washington Saturday to attend the annual dinner of the White House Correspondents association Saturday night.

Backwoods Slaying Of Father Denied
By Crandon Woman

Crandon, Wis., March 17 (AP)—Mrs. Jane Pierce pleaded innocent today to a charge of slaying her 65-year-old father as he slept in the backwoods cabin the two occupied.

Mrs. Pierce, 23, entered her plea during arraignment on a first degree murder charge before Circuit Judge Arold F. Murphy. She was returned to the Forest county jail to await trial.

Dist. Atty. Allan Stranz said last night Mrs. Pierce had signed a statement admitting she fired a shotgun blast at her father, Charles Blondheim, as he lay sleeping in the lonely cabin on the end of Lily Pad Lake, deep in the woods near the Forest-Florence county line.

East Lansing Solon Discovers An Aunt

Lansing, March 17 (AP)—The lady who sat down beside Senator Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing) in the Senate Wednesday turned out to be his aunt—the first he knew he had one.

The veteran legislator said the lady, Mrs. William Van Dam of Grand Rapids, remarked that her maiden name was Hittle. They started checking ancestors and discovered she was his father's sister.

Mrs. Van Dam was a member of a delegation which came to the senate to present a picture of the late Eva M. Hamilton of Grand Rapids, the only woman ever to sit in the senate.

Elated, Hittle said he and Mrs. Hittle would visit his new-found aunt this weekend.

Officials were silent on the question of whether Carl would be sent back to school.

Carl quit the sixth grade last year, prior to his marriage, and doesn't want to return.

But even though his plight had gained nationwide publicity, his chances of getting a job were dim because Michigan law forbids issuance of a child labor permit to youths under 14.

Control Of Congress Lost By Democrats

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Washington, March 17 (AP)—Congressional leaders conceded privately today that Democrats have lost control of the 81st Congress despite a majority in both House and Senate.

Developments of the last few days, they said, indicate that a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats could run things from now on.

And that means President Truman's "fair deal" program is in serious trouble.

In three days this week the coalition (1) rattled the President's rent control bill with amendments in the House, (2) gave the administration a beating

Dozen Countries Lined Up To Join Security Alliance

Washington, March 17 (AP)—Denmark, Iceland, Italy and Portugal were invited today to join the United States and seven other nations in a North Atlantic security pact.

It is expected all four will join and sign the treaty, details of which are to be made public tomorrow.

Representatives of the four already have been in contact with American and other Atlantic power officials to discuss the alliance, designed to curb aggression.

Inclusion of Italy was a triumph for France and the United States. Britain, the low countries and Canada opposed. The British objected that Italy's entry might extend the alliance too far southward and expose the members to unnecessary risk.

The American and French governments argued that Italy's pro-western outlook and its strategic position in the Mediterranean made it necessary to include her.

Seven nations originally formed the nucleus of the proposed pact: Belgium, Canada, France, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, the United Kingdom and the United States. Norway joined recently.

If Denmark, Iceland, Italy and Portugal join as expected, the alliance will boast 12 nations.

The state department, announcing the new invitations today, said signing of the treaty would take place in April.

It also said full publicity would be given details of the pact, officially a secret to date but unofficially known in most of its major points.

Paw Paw Papa, 13, Getting Desperate

Young Father Jobless;
11 Live In 2 Rooms

Paw Paw, Mich., March 17 (AP)—In a two-room tarpaper shack behind the city dump, an increasingly desperate 13-year-old father waited today for something—anything—to happen.

Crowded into the tiny house are Carl Harvey Blake, Jr., his wife Winifred, 16, their three-week-old son and eight in-laws.

Carl is jobless. There is no prospect of work despite all his efforts.

icy March winds seep through the cardboard-lined walls. The main diet for all the family is bread and potatoes.

"We eat 30 loaves a week," said Leo Singleton, 43, the father-in-law. His $20 weekly earnings from a junkyard job buy little more.

Winifred recently tore the baby's four ragged diapers in half to make them go farther. She has sacrificed her own food to buy him canned milk.

But in spite of everything, she and Carl want above all else to remain together.

Officials were silent on the question of whether Carl would be sent back to school.

Carl quit the sixth grade last year, prior to his marriage, and doesn't want to return.

But even though his plight had gained nationwide publicity, his chances of getting a job were dim because Michigan law forbids issuance of a child labor permit to youths under 14.

Navy And Air Force Strength Slashed In Westward Bases

Submarine Only Weapon
Not Being Cut Down

By LEIF ERICKSON
Pearl Harbor, March 17 (AP)—Only four years after winning mastery of the Pacific from Japan, the United States is backing-tracking its main defense line on this great ocean to its own West Coast.

The one weapon not being cut down in the Pacific is the submarine.

Pacific commanders here decline discussion, but obviously the line they would like to man and hold is as far from the U. S. mainland and as close to Asia as possible.

Under present and contemplated budgets, however, forces left for the Pacific are too scanty for maintenance of a distant line. Supply and shipping costs would be tremendous to maintain in Japan, Okinawa and the Marianas the kind of perimeter defense which Pacific commanders would like.

Price Targets On Coast
With priorities concentrated on Europe, the Mediterranean and elsewhere, the Pacific's role in the cold war strategy seems even more secondary than in World War II.

American military observers here—where the memory of Dec. 7, 1941, is still green—agree the West Coast's industrial and plane-producing belt would be the prize target for an enemy surprise attack by long-range bombers or submarine-launched guided missiles.

With expense as a controlling factor in Pacific deployment, they feel the best defense that can be afforded against such attack is to concentrate major defending elements right on the potential target and in Alaska.

Steady outbacks of air and naval forces based in Hawaii and westward are evidences of this.

Last week Adm. Dewitt C. Ramsey, Pacific Fleet commander, announced Navy and Marine Pacific air headquarters were moving from Hawaii to San Diego.

The commands have no forward forces, and the overhead decreases as the supply line is shortened.

Gamblers At Gary Draw Jobless Pay After Vice Cleanup

Gary, Ind., March 17 (AP)—Gamblers who are out of work probably can collect unemployment insurance in Indiana. But the distinction is that prostitutes are classified as independent contractors, says Lyman K. Biltz, manager of the Indiana Unemployment Compensation Bureau here.

The bureau noted an increase in claim files yesterday, a week after a throng of aroused Gary women had set off a war on crime and vice.

Biltz said many of the men listed their trade as poker dealers, bet takers and slot machine maintenance men. He said the women admitted they were prostitutes.

"It looks like the gamblers will be paid $20 for 20 weeks unless they go back to work sooner because, under the law, I'm supposed to find work for them, and I certainly can't do that," Biltz said.

The anti-crime campaign started two weeks ago after the slaying of Miss Mary Cheever, 45-year-old Wallace high school teacher, who was shot in an alley near her home. Police attributed the shooting to a purse snatcher.

Chicago Organist's
Daughter Jumps Out
Third Floor Window

Chicago, March 17 (AP)—Joy Melgard, 19, daughter of the organist at the Chicago stadium, was reported in satisfactory condition today after plunging from the window of their third floor apartment.

Oak Park police said Joy and William P. Bernard, 19, a student at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, were in the living room of the Melgard apartment when Al Melgard, Joy's father, arrived home.

Police quoted Melgard as saying, "she walked out of the room after saying 'dad, I'm sick.' " She plunged from a bathroom window.

Officer Fred Kidd said Bernard told him he and Joy had "had a spat" but declined to elaborate.

At Oak Park hospital it was found the girl suffered broken wrists, and a broken jaw as well as possible internal injuries.

Wife Of American

Seoul, March 17 (AP)—Two masked men today assassinated Mrs. Horace G. Underwood, wife of one of Korea's most prominent American missionaries.

Mrs. Underwood was shot as she answered the door of her residence near Chosen Christian University on the outskirts of Seoul. She was entertaining college faculty wives at tea.

She died en route to a hospital. One bullet fired by one of the masked men struck her in the side.

Korean police and U. S. army authorities began an immediate investigation. Police said they believed the assassins were Koreans.

HURT IN LEAP FROM CNW 400

Former Escanaban Seriously Injured

Milwaukee—Miss Dorothy Crowley, 30, of 1309 W. Wisconsin avenue, found unconscious beside the North Western railway tracks near Campbellsport Monday night was still in such a precarious condition yesterday at St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac, that she could not be questioned.

Miss Crowley and her mother, Mrs. Genevieve Crowley, are former residents of Escanaba, Mich.

Although authorities have not yet been able to get her story, they said their investigation has not revealed any contradiction to their belief she leaped from a moving North Western train in a suicide attempt. Her mother remained at her bedside yesterday.

If her daughter did attempt suicide, Mrs. Crowley said, the only possible motives she could think of were the love affair with an older man and dependency over a long period of unemployment. Her daughter had recently gone to work for a Milwaukee dress shop, however, she said.

The leap from the North Western "400" occurred two miles north of Campbellsport. Miss Crowley was found lying unconscious beside the tracks Monday evening by one of the section crews sent out to search for her when her absence from the train was discovered. Train crew members said Miss Crowley appeared in "a disturbed state of mind" on the train.

Her injuries include multiple fractures of the right leg, possible head and internal injuries, and frostbitten fingers and hands—the latter the result of her two-hour exposure in 15 degree temperature. Hospital physicians said she has a "50-50 chance" of recovery.

George Pierce, 82 Dies In Hospital; Was Ill Two Weeks

George Pierce, 82, of Masonville, died at 9:30 this morning in St. Francis hospital where he has been receiving treatment for two weeks.

George Pierce was born June 10, 1867, in Ithaca, N. Y., and came to Michigan when 12 years old. When he was 16 he came to the Upper Peninsula and lived in Munising until 28 years ago when he moved to Gladstone, and later to Masonville.

A millwright by trade, Pierce was married in Kalkaska county Nov. 6, 1896. The couple observed their golden wedding anniversary three years ago. He was a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving are his wife, Grace, and the following children: Mrs. Bert (Iva) Chase of Munising; Mrs. Mike (Opal) Washut of Naimar; Mrs. Howard (Bernice) Caron of Masonville; Mrs. Robert (Doris) Vanderhoff of Gladstone, Route One; Raymond Pierce of

Maple Syrup Time Near On Delta County Farms

The flow of sugar-sweet sap from maple groves in Delta county will soon start as farmers begin tapping trees in preparation for the annual production of maple syrup.

Although not one of the county's major agricultural products, thousands of gallons of maple syrup are made each year by farmers in the spring "off-season" period for other farm labors. Last year the maple sap run began about March 20 and lasted for several weeks. It was reported as a "fairly good season."

Among the larger producers of maple syrup in the county are Ted and Gus McFadden of Cornwell, Frank Barron of Flat Rock and Dona Barron of St. Nicholas, Angus Pineau of Rapid River, and Uno Anderson of Cornwell.

The sugar bush owned by Gus McFadden is located near Watson and this year he is better prepared for the harvest. He has purchased all new and modern equipment, and his operations probably will be inspected about March 29 by Roy Skog, Marquette, extension service forester, and J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent. Each spring there is talk of a county-wide association of maple syrup producers, but because of the comparatively small number of prospective members the organization has never materialized.

Detroit, and Kenneth Pierce of Gladstone. Also a sister, Mrs. Cora B. Ellis of Groton, N. Y., 24 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

The body was removed to Kelley funeral home in Gladstone. Arrangements are incomplete.

Michigan on the average has about 500,000 trees tapped for sap. Miles A. Nelson, chief of the bureau of marketing and enforcement, Michigan department of agriculture, directs the attention of maple syrup producers and manufacturers to the requirements of state laws governing the marketing of the syrup.

Containers of maple syrup offered for sale must bear a label identifying the product, the true net contents in terms of liquid measure, and the name and address of the person or firm manufacturing or distributing the syrup. To meet the legal standards, maple syrup must weight not less than 11 pounds to the gallon and must not contain more than 35 per cent water.

Maple sap begins to run, and continues running, when days become warm and filled with spring sunshine, while the nights are cold and frosty. The run declines when the nights become warm. Farther south in Michigan the sap is already flowing, and it was reported that a brief run is expected there.

Preparations for the spring maple syrup run include the cutting of a large amount of wood used in boiling down the sap in metal trays. Trees are tapped—usually a hole bored with an auger— and when the weather is right the sap begins dripping from the spout into the collecting pails. From the pails the sap is transferred to large barrels and it is then dipped into the boiling-down pans.

Many hours of work are required to produce that one gallon of tasty maple syrup whose price at last year's market rate brought the farmer $5 a gallon.

UNION CITES STRIKE CAUSE

Bay Foundry Employees Issue Statement

Describing the position of Local 902, UAW-CIO, and Bay Foundry management as "deadlocked" in the wage dispute that resulted in a walkout of union employees Monday morning, a committee of the union today issued a statement citing its reasons for the strike.

The committee issuing the statement is composed of John Gorench, president of Local 902, Edward Wunder and Bernard LaPoint. The union's statement is as follows:

"The management has stated that the average wage of the Bay Foundry plant is $1.20 per hour. However, this average wage is based on an incentive plan—the harder you work the more take home pay.

"A number of the men are laborers working the hour at from 75 cents to 85 cents per hour. These particular men are finding it difficult to live on this wage. A 10 per cent cut for these men would make it almost impossible to even exist.

"The piece workers earn a good wage because of the manner in which they work. To do the same amount of work at 10 cents less on a dollar, when the cost of living is still rising to a degree, is definitely taking a big step backwards, which none of the men want to do without a fight.

"To the union's knowledge there are four of the supervisory force working, which doesn't include the office force now working out in the shop, and one member of the union who managed to break through the picket line.

"The Bay Foundry needs capital to continue operations. The union realizes this fact, but it cannot see how its members can help Bay Foundry operations by taking a 10 per cent cut at this time. The capital will have to come from some other source— from people who can well afford it.

"The management has operated 4 days a week from November until March 1. Most of us have had to struggle along to keep out of the red ourselves. Taking a 10 per cent cut now would mean working five days, a full week, but drawing the same pay for a four-day week. The union does not see eye to eye with management on the 10 per cent wage cut and will oppose the reduction to the bitter end."

Navy And Army Cut Forces In Pacific Bases

wing, the last in the Pacific command.

As air intercepting forces, Hawaii has left one air national guard squadron of 25 overage F-47 thunderbolts and a navy all-weather fighter training unit.

Military observers believe Hawaii is being thus stripped of air defense on the basis that there would be little profit for an enemy nowadays to aim a first attack at these islands.

In 1941, when Japan was the potential Far East enemy, the Pacific fleet commander had four big carriers and 13 battleships based on Pearl Harbor.

In the current cold war status with Russia, no carrier or battleship is based in Hawaii. In fact, only two first-line carriers are operating in the Pacific. Both—the boxer and valley forge—are based on the West Coast.

Although the Pacific fleet command refuses to disclose the number of warships deployed in the Far East, it is known that in China and Japan waters there now are no more than four cruisers, one small escort carrier and a small force of destroyers.

Observers estimate no Far East enemy could project a serious surface threat in the Pacific. Slim as American forces there are, they could muster in 24 hours enough to cope with any potential naval threat to the West Coast, they say.

By deploying on the West Coast major elements of Pacific defense and cutting the supply problem to a minimum, observers note, immediate opportunities for enemy submarines are reduced.

The Russians are reputed to have many German-developed "Schnorkel" type highspeed submarines, but the feeling here is that they lack experience in submarine operations comparable to that of the U. S. Navy.

In the war against Japan, U. S. Navy undersea operations were outstandingly successful — and Mrs. Pearl Cookson, Former Gladstonian, Dies In Fargo, N.D.

Mrs. Pearl Cookson of Milwaukee, a former resident of Gladstone, died Tuesday in Fargo, N. D. where she was visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cecil (Alta) Larson.

Mrs. Cookson, daughter of the late William Madden of Gladstone, was born here Feb. 25, 1891. She attended Gladstone High school and was graduated in 1909. Later she attended the teachers college in Marquette and taught in Gladstone and Delta County rural schools.

She was a member of St. George Episcopal church in Milwaukee. She leaves four daughters, Mrs. Edward (Frances) Rutzen, Mrs. Ray (Harriet) Olala and Mrs. Rudy (Joyce) Koch of Milwaukee and Mrs. Larson of Fargo; a son, Lawrence; her mother, Mrs. Harriet Madden, Milwaukee; a sister, Frances Madden, and two brothers, Albert Madden of Minneapolis and Gerald Madden of Gladstone.

The body will be taken to Milwaukee, where funeral services will be held Friday. Brief funeral services will be conducted in Gladstone by the Rev. James C. Ward, pastor of St. Stephen Episcopal church in Escanaba. Burial will be made in the Madden lot in Fernwood cemetery in Gladstone.

U-M Grid Stadium Capacity Will Be Up To 97,000

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 17 (AP)—Plans to boost the permanent seating capacity of University of Michigan's football stadium to 97,000 were announced today by Athletic Director H. O. (Fritz) Crisler.

The plans call for building 21,000 steel seats in 18 rows around the structure, whose present permanent capacity is 76,000. Temporary bleacher seats have given the stadium a previous top capacity of 86,000.

A university spokesman said the new 97,000 capacity will "easily" make the Michigan stadium the largest college-owned structure in the nation.

the Navy is not cutting down on its Pacific submarines.

Pearl Harbor remains a full-scale submarine base. Its force is being converted on a fast schedule to the "Schnorkel" (renamed "Snorkel") to simplify the German word type of underwater breathing apparatus.

If the time ever should come for a counterblow, the Pacific submarine force certainly would strike swiftly.

TWO CHILDREN HURT BY AUTO

Leroy, George Johnson In Hospital Here

Leroy Johnson, 8, and his brother, George, 5, sons of Mrs. Martha Johnson, were injured at noon today when they were struck by an auto on US-241 just west of the Escanaba city limits in front of their home.

Officers of the sheriff's department who investigated the accident said Leroy suffered a fractured right leg and George received internal injuries. The boys are receiving treatment in St. Francis hospital.

They were struck by a car driven by Reynold E. Bittner of Bark River Rt. 1, who was traveling west on the highway.

The accident occurred when three children darted into the highway in front of the Bittner car, officers said. They reported that Bittner tried to avoid the accident but struck two of the Johnson boys.

Mrs. Johnson and the children were standing on the south side of the highway waiting for the Greyhound bus. Mrs. Johnson flagged the bus to go to Escanaba. As the bus pulled away the children ran from the roadside, back of the bus, and into the path of the Bittner car.

Trains Stay Idle In Wabash Strike; Pay Not An Issue

St. Louis, March 17 (AP)—Trains on the strike-bound Wabash railroad remained idle today for the third straight day with no indication of a settlement.

Some 3,000 operating employees are on strike. If no back-to-work arrangement is made, 9,000 other employees are due to be laid off beginning Saturday.

President Truman has signed an order calling for a 60-day postponement of the strike while a fact-finding board considers the dispute.

But union leaders said once a strike has started there is no compulsion for them to send the men back to work. They said they are awaiting official notice of President Truman's order.

Unions involved are the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers and the Order of Railway Conductors.

Wages are not an issue. The strike was called over approximately 100 individuals' claims against the railroad. The Wabash operates in Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Missouri, Iowa and Indiana.

Albert Johnson Home Near Shingleton Is Destroyed By Fire

The one-story cottage home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson and their two children, located three miles south of Shingleton on M-94, was destroyed by fire last night.

Fire was caused by explosion of an oil stove. The house was burned to the ground. The Johnsons' lost practically all of their clothing and household furnishings.

Through the facilities of the American Red Cross, clothing is being procured for the family. Particularly sought are diapers and a crib for the couple's three-month-old child, clothing for their three-year-old boy and bedding, cooking utensils and tableware.

Persons having items to contribute are asked to see Mrs. Walter Busch at 539 Manistique avenue, Manistique, or telephone her at Manistique 468-W.

Dixie Spring Crops Damaged By Frost; Midwest Near Zero

Chicago, March 17 (AP)—March kept blowing a batch of cold, wet weather over many areas of the country today.

But temperatures moderated over the southland and stayed above freezing in the early morning hours. Yesterday's frosty weather caused heavy damage to fruit and vegetable crops in some parts of Dixie.

There was a reinforcement of cold air from central Canada into the midwest and the mercury dropped to below zero in lower Michigan. It was near zero in North Dakota and northern Minnesota.

A wet belt extended from the New England states southeastward to the Texas panhandle. Snow fell over the extreme eastern and western parts of the belt. There was rain in the central section over the Ohio River valley. Freezing rain or drizzle was reported in central Missouri and central Ohio.

Mead Shows Faith In Escanaba

SIDNEY FERGUSON, New York, chairman of the board of the Mead corporation and its subsidiary, the Escanaba Paper company, provided a broad background of the Upper Peninsula activities of the Mead company in an oral report to Escanaba and Manistique supervisory personnel Tuesday evening.

What he said is of extreme interest not only to the paper company supervisors and to the employees of the Mead company's mills at Escanaba and Manistique, but to the public in general. The economic life of the two communities and much of the surrounding area is closely aligned with the progress of the two paper mills, largest and most stable employer of labor in Escanaba and Manistique.

Mr. Ferguson emphasized that the transition from newsprint manufacture to production of high grade papers has been a courageous gamble, but one which promises successful operation of the paper industry in this territory. In the transition process, greater emphasis is being upon paper making skills than ever before.

The company's faith in the Escanaba and Manistique mills, their executive staffs, the quality of the labor force and other factors that enter into successful operation of a plant in a competitive market is evidenced by the huge sums of money invested in the expansion program of recent years.

In Escanaba alone this expansion has resulted in an increase in employment from 330 to more than 500 persons in the last 10 years. A substantial increase has also resulted at Manistique since the acquisition of the Mead company of the Manistique mill several years ago.

Of particular significance is the obvious conclusion from Mr. Ferguson's review that unless the transition from newsprint to high grade papers had been made, the Escanaba and Manistique mills would eventually have been forced to close, unable as they were to stand the competition from Canadian newsprint mills.

A Problem Of Water

THE CITY COUNCIL soon will be required to make a decision to solve the community's water problem. The existing deep wells are inadequate to meet even present needs, without considering probable increased consumption. The city is just about convinced that the drilling of additional wells is not the permanent answer to the problem nor an adequate solution.

The old filter plant is in poor condition and although it is still being used to supplement the supply of water from the deep wells, no one can be sure that the old plant will continue in service for any length of time.

The city has completed extensive tests to appraise the possibility of installing a Ranney collector as a solution to the city's water problem. Test results have not been as satisfactory as city officials had hoped. The quantity of water available apparently is considerably in excess of the city's maximum needs for years to come, according to hydrologists. Water samples, however, indicate a degree of hardness that would require treatment. Cost of installing the collector, together with a water softening plant, has been estimated at $275,000.

The alternative is to construct a new water filtering plant, drawing the water directly from the bay as the city did for years before the underground water source was tapped. This water would not require softening unless, of course, a public demand developed for water softer than the bay product.

There is a financial factor involved in the ultimate decision that must be made, however. The cost of installing a new filter plant would undoubtedly be greatly in excess of the cost of installing a Ranney collector. Estimates of the cost of a new filter plant have varied from $500,000 to $1,500,000. Certainly the city will have to get a more definite estimate of the filter plant costs before an adequate basis for comparison can be established.

The Ranney collector idea would appear to be a logical solution, except for one material consideration. There is an element of uncertainty about the performance of the Ranney collector, or at least this uncertainty exists for many local persons.

Further studies will have to be conducted before a definite decision can be made on the city's water problem.

Home Rule Plan On Rent Control

THE house of representatives has voted a local option clause in the rent control extension bill passed by the lower branch of congress Tuesday, action which has brought bitter opposition from the Truman administration. The bill now goes to the senate where it will get prompt consideration as soon as the filibuster fight is settled.

The administration contends that the home rule amendment nullifies the effectivetiveness of rent control. This contention does not seem reasonable. Surely elected local officials are better able to decide whether rent control is needed in their areas than federal officials in Washington are. The amendment provides authority for each state, county or municipality to decide the rent control problem. The bill continues rent control for 15 months in areas not already decontrolled or where decontrol action is not taken by local authorities. The administration had asked for a 24 months extension.

The rent control bill has only nominal interest for residents of this area. Federal rent control does not apply to Delta county inasmuch as the area was decontrolled many months ago. In fact, the county was under control only for a period of less than a year. Even then the need for rent controls here was questionable and if the need actually did exist, the enforcement machinery was woefully inadequate to be effective.

Fire Prevention

DO YOU remember Fire Prevention Week?

It was observed last October, on a nation-wide basis. The most aggressive and intelligent effort was given to showing millions of Americans the causes of fire, the horrible results of fire, and the ways and means of preventing it. Nothing was left undone to tell a story which is of direct, personal interest to all of us.

No one can say how many people have remembered the lessons of Fire Prevention week and are now applying them in their daily lives. The future trend of fire waste will provide a partial answer to that. But it will be a great tragedy for the nation if the week does not produce far-reaching, long-range effects. For there is only one way to cut our fire loss to the bone—and that is by making every week a fire prevention week.

That isn't nearly so difficult as it may sound. It will cost us little in either money or time or energy. It involves such rudimentary precautions as keeping homes and places of business clean and free of trash; of maintaining heating and electrical systems in good repair; in being careful with matches and smoking materials—and in doing the other small and simple things that, when all added together, will prevent the great majority of fires.

So—make this week and every week a fire prevention week!

"RURAL VALUES" FOR ALL OF US

(Milwaukee Journal)
At a recent rural education conference in Oshkosh there was a good deal of discussion of the values in country life. Men and women reared on the farm, who had learned to love the open country and the beauties of nature, were anxious that their boys and girls should understand the compensations that can be found on the farm before being lured away by the bright lights and higher wages of the city.

It is sometimes hard for a farmer and his wife faced with their burden of work and worry, to lift their eyes to the beauties of the hills, to stop to enjoy an enchanting sunset, to realize their fortune in being able to breathe fresh air and to know nature at her best. But the values are there, and are very real.

If farm families appreciate them, then city folk who have been deprived of them should know them, too. City children as well as rural children should learn to enjoy the glory of the open countryside—even as glimpsed through a car window. They, too, should be taught the satisfaction that comes of working with growing plants and animals.

It will do us all good to consider the "rural values."

DEFINING A STRIKE

(Sault Ste. Marie News)
The recent ruling of the National Labor Relations Board that a union is not allowed to strike in an effort to obtain a closed shop contract is perhaps less significant for itself than for the fact that the board, in order to make the ruling, clarified the legal definition of a strike. Its ruling was that "any concerted stoppage of work by employees, including a stoppage by reason of the expiration of a collective bargaining agreement" constitutes a strike.

Since labor-management relations have entered the field of legalistic procedure, the precise definition of what is or is not a strike has often been a point at issue. Anything which contributes to a clear definition of a strike may help to prevent strikes by keeping the legal wheels turning.

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

WHAT IS THE ORIGIN?

Q. Can you tell us why radio bandmaster Meredith Willson gave his new book the title " . . . And There I Stood With My Piccolo"?—E. W. S.

A. There are two reasons: (1) The Mason City boy is one of the nation's greatest artists on the flute and piccolo; (2) the title is a humorous allusion to a story once told to Willson by a Moravian flute player.

The story:
"A very important king hired a whole orchestra to play for him one night during his supper, just because he felt lonesome.

"This orchestra played great and the king was so delighted that before going to bed he said, 'Boys, your playing gave me the whips and jingles, and just for that you can all go to my countinghouse and fill your instruments with gold pieces.'

"I can still hear that happy clatter as sack after sack of golden tidies streamed into the tuba and slithered down the neck of the bassoon and spilled out over the bells of the French horn.

"And there I stood with my piccolo."
Willson's book, an autobiography, is distinguished for the same charm, sincerity, and unpretentiousness that makes his radio

Pres. Truman No Superman

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Key West, Fla.—His face deeply tanned, walking with a brisk step, this man looks like any one of the thousands of visitors who come to sit under Florida's brilliant sun. He has the friendly, open look of the small-town America of the past.

President Truman has several times said that in his opinion there are at least a million Americans who might make a better president than he. But, as he adds, he happens by a complex set of circumstances to hold the office and he means to go right on trying as hard as he can to do the best he can.

In office now for four years, the equivalent of a full term, the amazing thing is how little Mr. Truman has changed. Talk about the new Truman, Truman the Socialist pushing America into the social welfare state, Truman grown arrogant with power, is largely irrelevant.

MORE CONFIDENT NOW

Of course, he has changed. No one could live under the stress and strain of the presidency without changing. He is definitely more confident, more relaxed, easier in the office.

It is no longer the hair shirt that it was in the first year and a half or two years when he told almost every visitor that he had not wanted to be president. Those days seem a long way off when he said to General Eisenhower, with all the earnestness at his command, that if Eisenhower would run for president, he Truman, would be his vice-presidential candidate.

But these are superficial changes. They have more to do with the outward manner than with the inward core of the man. In informal speechmaking, for example, he has a new confidence that makes it possible for him to imitate a radio commentator with comic effect.

He has learned to know the thousand and one demands that constantly press on the occupant of the White House. In part, at least, he has learned to guard himself from these demands. During the intense go-round of inauguration week he met for a 7 o'clock breakfast with his old buddies of Battery D and what he remarked casually to reporters who were there is revealing.

"These men will tell you the real truth. They don't want anything fixed."

This is inevitably a paraphrase of Mr. Truman's words, since he put it in the earthy language that sometimes startles visitors who do not know him well. His private speech—and occasionally it breaks over into public address—has the saltiness that is attributed by legend to Lincoln.

Knows When To Act

Appraising him at the end of this four-year period I would put on the credit side of the ledger his loyalty, both to individuals and to the tradition of a free and strong America as he has known it in his life experience. His ability to act when action is called for would be listed high on the credit side. Along with this goes his refusal to be stampeded or panicked by attack. This quality might be described by the word, steadfast. His critics call it merely stubbornness.

As with so many men, Mr. Truman's virtues are also his defects. His loyalty kept Clark Clifford, one of the ablest of his advisers, in the White House in spite of persistent attacks from others in the Truman circle who argued a year ago that Clifford was too radical and, therefore, was hurting the president.

"Clark Clifford will have to go," a member of the Truman cabinet said, leaning across the presidential desk.

"That will be enough of that," the president broke in, his voice as even as always but the unmistakable fiber of his determination abundantly clear.

The president's loyalty dictated in considerable part his nomination of Mon C. Wallgren, former governor of Washington, to be chairman of the national security resources board. The president believes Wallgren to be capable and honest and he is deeply resentful of the attack made in the senate on the appointment.

The choice of this vacation spot at the navy base here in Key West is typical in more ways than one of the president. It is simple, unpretentious, inexpensive and yet comfortable and the climate is nearly ideal. He could be an honored and pampered guest in a half-dozen palatial houses at Palm Beach, yet he chooses a modest cottage where he is his own boss.

The kindly man who will be president for nearly four years more is no saint, no hero. Certainly, there is none of the man-on-horseback about him. He is an American, shaped by the forces of his time, trying to do his best in an era of trouble and confusion.

program such delightful and unique entertainment.

Q. Is there a story behind the word influenza?—Mrs. L. L.

A. Influenza is an Italian word. It means "influence." Old-time astrologers believed that an ethereal fluid (influenza) flowed down from the stars and influenced the course of events and the destiny of man. The respiratory disease, they thought, was caused by the astral fluid.

Q. Where did we get the national anthem "America"?—F. P. R.

A. Sorry, "America" is not an anthem, but a hymn, although the air to which it is sung is the music of the national anthem of Great Britain, "God Save the King."

The poem "America" was written by the poet-clergyman, Samuel Francis Smith, and the hymn was first sung at his Baptist church in Boston in the 1800's.

The national anthem is "The Star Spangled Banner," words by Francis Scott Key. The music, strangely enough, is that of an old English drinking song, "To Anacreon In Heaven." It's hard to believe that, until 18 years ago, the United States had no official national anthem. "The Star Spangled Banner" was adopted by an act of congress in 1931.

BOARD OF APPEALS — A couple years ago it was our privilege in this land of the free to point out the need of an Escanaba zoning board of appeals.

Such a board of appeals is provided for in the zoning ordinance but the city council had made no appointments after the boards of appeals in the past had lapsed and become inactive for one reason or another.

Meanwhile, the city council itself was acting as board of appeals. It was granting exceptions and variances to the zoning ordinance that the council itself had adopted—a situation in which a legislative body also exercised a judicial function. A comparable situation would be the Michigan legislature assuming some of the responsibilities of the supreme court.

When the council, slightly more than one year ago, appointed a zoning commission and zoning ordinance, this writer was one of five men named to the board of appeals. Both the planning commission and board of appeals serve without compensation of any kind.

EDUCATIONAL—In accepting the appointment there was the realization that it would entail some sacrifice in time, and the possibility that disagreeable situations might arise in connection with hearing appeals from strict letter of city zoning. There was this same consideration, no doubt, on the part of the other appointees—Art Jensen, L. J. Jacobs, Chris Nicholson and W. P. Schultes.

For this member of the appeal board, the disagreeable element has been more than compensated for by the liberal education in zoning—and the practical application of zoning as it now exists in Escanaba. Not to be overlooked is the encouraging reaction of most persons who have filed applications for appeals. They have, in the majority, accepted the decisions of the appeal board as fair and honest interpretations of the zoning ordinance.

ITS LIMITATIONS—To clarify the thinking on the part of some people in the community, it would be well to describe the functions of the board of appeals—what it can do, and what it cannot do.

First of all, the board of appeals must accept the zoning ordinance and zoning map of the city as correct. Curing what it considers "bad zoning" is not within its province. The enacting of a zoning ordinance, including the map, is a legislative function exercised by the city council, sometimes on recommendation of the city planning commission.

The appeal board may, when situations arise that might justify a change in the zoning ordinance, direct the attention of the city council to the situations.

But the board of appeals does not make the zoning laws or enforce them, as some people believe. Its decisions are restricted to the narrow field of adjustments in particular appeals that come before it after an applicant has been denied a permit by the city.

ON APPEALS ONLY—The function of the appeal board is to "apply the zoning ordinance, including the map, as adopted by the legislative organ of the municipality, with adjustments to exceptional situations as provided in the ordinance; but these adjustments are to be consistent with the zone plan and zoning regulations as mapped in the ordinance."

The only way the appeal board may hear an "exceptional situation" is in response to an appeal from a denial of a permit under the strict letter of the zoning ordinance.

CONSIDERATIONS—There are many factors for the board of appeals to consider in deliberating on cases that come before it.

Would its decision be consistent with the zoning plan and zoning regulations of the city? Would its decision grant a permissible exception—or would it mean a departure from the zoning ordinance so complete as to violate the "intent and spirit" of the ordinance?

Would its decision, while relieving an individual hardship, establish precedent that would seriously affect not only the immediate neighborhood but in the future the entire community?

MIDDLE GROUND—The board of appeals strives to maintain the letter and standards of zoning in areas of new development; granting exceptions and variances in long-settled areas, consistent with the ordinance, but with awareness that perfection is impossible where so many imperfections already exist.

Within the limitations imposed by the zoning ordinance the board of appeals seeks a middle ground in the adjustment of applications for exceptions to the ordinance, knowing that both too strict and too liberal interpretations of the ordinance will bring zoning into public disrepute. And without good will and support from the public zoning will fail.

New York, (P)—One of the mysterious things about the mysterious East is that comparatively few Chinese have heart disease or ulcers.

This cheerful fact is partly responsible for a boom in Chinese restaurants. People come to them in the hope that if they eat like the Chinese they'll feel as good as the Chinese.

"Now there are more than a thousand Chinese restaurants around New York," said Jimmy my Yoeng, a patriarch in this field.

Jimmy, a smiling, ageless gnome who weighs only 110 pounds with a chopstick in each hand, is perhaps the man here who did most to transform the old off-the-Bowery Chinese chop suey parlor. He moved it uptown, kicked out the teakwood and mother-of-pearl tables, modernized it, and put in dance band music.

"Thirty to forty years ago many decent people wouldn't go into a Chinese restaurant," he smiled. "They didn't think it was respectable. All that is changed now."

Today, Yoeng said, only "newcomers and schoolchildren" order the twin standbys of the old-time Chinese restaurant—chop suey and chow mein.

"People now want to eat real Chinese dishes—the dishes we eat ourselves."

His own favorite is chow sang gai pan, described on his Lun Fa restaurant menu as "fresh white meat of chicken deliciously sautéed with hearts of gink goy, bamboo shoots, water chestnuts, fresh mushrooms and a touch of ginger."

American doctors have a high rate of heart disease. It is perhaps more than a coincidence, then, that many of Jimmy's patrons are doctors.

"One doctor has sent me more than 50 of his patients who suffer from high blood pressure," he said. "I order the meals for many of them. After I talk to them a few minutes I can tell what is good for them."

Not Enough Variety
Jimmy believes Cantonese cooking is the healthiest in the world because of its variety, and because it always combines vegetables with meat.

"In American cooking meat is usually fried, baked or broiled," he said. "But Chinese cooks can prepare meat from 50 to 75 different ways."

Jimmy is convinced after a lifetime in the business that Americans eat too much—and too often.

"No one can really understand your digestion but yourself," he said. "If your digestion is poor, eat more vegetables. If it is good, then you can eat more meat."

Aside from a diet high in herbs and vegetables, he feels Chinese are safeguarded against heart ailments because they don't fret as much as the worry-prisoners of the Western world.

"I have had ten thousand people work for me," he said. "And I don't have an enemy. I never criticize anybody."

Are we faced with an irresistible rush to centralization, then state socialism, then dictatorship? I feel resolutely it is time to find out—if we can.—Sen. John W. Bricker (R) of Ohio.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Uncensored diplomatic reports indicate that the Soviet government is planning to place before the United States the strange case of an American citizen reported to be the leader of the anti-Russian underground in Poland and Germany.

The mysterious American, who owns a farm twelve miles outside Hillman, Minn., operates under various names including the following: Edward F. T'Kach, Count Heinrich Von Gelbe, Baron Von Tanthen, Heinrich Woyceho, Dr. Edouard Van Rothkirch, or sometimes just Baron X.

According to associates, he is the head of the Frei Corps of Barbarossa, the name of the anti-Russian underground in parts of Poland and the Soviet zone of Germany. Baron X has raised considerable amounts of money in the United States and is reputed to have smuggled arms and ammunition into the Soviet areas via Austria and Scandinavian ports. He is also reported to have terrorized Soviet officials and been a constant thorn in the side of the Russian government in these areas.

U. S. officials have made it clear, however, that Baron X has no connection whatsoever with the U. S. government. On the contrary, they have frowned on his activities and fear he may cause serious trouble between the United States and Russia.

For that reason, the state department has consistently refused any passport. His wife, who was reached by telephone at Hillman, Minn., under the name of Mrs. Von Rothkirch, said that her husband had left by car and was driving to New York. She said he went away for long periods of time during which she did not hear from him. She declined to comment on his activities in Germany except to say: "I know that the Soviets have found out about him."

In Cleveland, one of Von Rothkirch's lieutenants, Wilhelm Ullenhorst—Zeichmann, said that Von Rothkirch was head of the Frei Corps of Barbarossa, and that he had gone back and forth to Germany without an official passport. Other quarters reported that Von Rothkirch had used merchant seaman's papers.

The mysterious "baron" served for a time with the German Luftwaffe in Spain during the Spanish Revolution, then entered the U. S. army after Pearl Harbor. For a time he also served as chief buson's mate in the U. S. Coast Guard in a temporary, nonpaying capacity. At that time he used the name T'Kach.

WHERE HE GOT THE MONEY

In 1946, he registered under the name of Edward Von Rothkirch as a lobbyist for the Central European Research Council, and was active on Capitol Hill among isolationist congressmen and congressmen of German descent.

He was also connected in 1946 with the Central European Rehabilitation association, with headquarters at 201 Division avenue, Brooklyn, and headed by Father Don Odo, self-proclaimed Duke of Wurttemberg.

Some indication as to where Baron X has been able to raise his funds may be had from the fact that the assets of the Central European Rehabilitation association in the Riggs National Bank jumped from $5 to $169,000 in less than a year in 1946-47. It is believed that some of these funds were drawn on to finance underground operations in Soviet areas in Central Europe.

Baron X is reputed to have the best intelligence service inside the Russian areas—despite the large amounts of money spent on intelligence by the U. S. government since the war. He is also reported to have intimate contacts inside Czechoslovakia, Austria and Hungary.

U. S. records show that Von Rothkirch's father was born in Odessa, Russia, under the name of Fred T'Kach, and that his mother was also born in Odessa in 1897. Von Rothkirch himself was born in St. Paul, Minn.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Ex-Secretary of State George Marshall is so peeved at war plans chief Gen. Al Wedemeyer he has privately threatened to speak against him if Wedemeyer is nominated to succeed General Clay in Germany. . . . Other likely candidate to succeed Clay is Gen. Mark Clark, former commander of the 5th army in Italy. . . .

There was something very fishy about the delay in confirming Ernest Gruening as governor of Alaska. The salmon lobby was again him. . . . At first Secretary of State Acheson was inclined to overlook the pro-Nazi board of governors selected to govern the Ruhr steel industry until he saw a blistering cartoon in the Washington Post. Then he hit back to Clay to oust the pro-Nazis. . . . Hitherto Clay has run Germany as he wished. It will be interesting to see whether Clay or Acheson now wins out.

Congratulations to Sam P. McKenzie and the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Atlanta for urging that Atlanta pass laws banning KKK masks in public. . . . Bullet-proof glass may be built around the senate and house galleries as the result of the suicide 50 feet from the senate chamber last week. Some nervous solons now want protection from trigger-happy spectators. . . .

The agriculture department is warning that all the west from Michigan to California and from Canada to Texas will be hit by grasshoppers this summer. Deep snow protected grasshoppers' eggs and, as a result, the worst plague in ten years is expected. In 1938 grasshoppers ate a $200,000,000 hole in farmers' pockets.

UNDER THE DOME

While southern senators filibustered 23 hrs., 43 mins., other senators talked for 39 hrs., 55 mins., which, in effect, helped the filibuster. . . . Prime Minister Attlee has ordered all members of the British embassy to keep their mouths shut about Britain's recovery. Attlee doesn't want anyone else to brag about how fast Britain is coming back, especially at a time when congress is debating how much Britain should get under the Marshall Plan. . . .

TOURIST PLANS ARE DISCUSSED

Delta County Council Is Being Formed

Formation of a permanent Delta County tourist council was discussed at a meeting last night of more than 50 resort operators, hotel managers, restaurant operators and gas station attendants in the Escanaba council chambers.

Art Goulais, chairman of the tourist and convention committee of Escanaba, opened the meeting and introduced the chairman for the assembly, Charles Burton of Gladstone, Hugh Grow, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, assisted with the meeting, sponsored jointly by the Gladstone and Escanaba Chambers of Commerce.

Describing Delta County as "dead center of the richest recreational area in the midwest," Burton cited the 100 miles of shoreline in Delta County, the three golf courses, and the year-round fishing available here. He said that unemployment and crowded schools would create an inflow of people to the north, and urged those at the meeting to look ahead and plan for a brilliant future both industrially and recreationally.

Subjects of county-wide importance, such as improvement of M-35, Pioneer Trail Park, and housing and food facilities for tourists were outlined as work for the tourist council.

Next Meeting Mar. 30

A meeting will be held in Gladstone March 30 to organize the council. During the next two weeks circulars listing the names of potential members will be sent out to all persons catering to tourist trade. Ballots for nomination of a board of directors of nine will also be circulated.

The motion to circulate nominating ballots for a board of directors was made by Walter O'Brien of Gladstone and seconded by Bruce Brackett of this city. Methods of attracting tourists and keeping them here were discussed. Information centers and folders were considered.

The assembly considered creation of activities for the tourist and extensively discussed operation of boat livery, cruises and tours through the county, its industries and so forth. A central reporting agency to accommodate tourists looking for sleeping space was considered and Claude Tobin offered the services of his business establishment for it.

Joseph Heirman, Delta County agricultural agent, appeared before the group to explain the free services offered to persons catering to the tourist industry by Michigan State college.

Workshops will be held in Marquette and Menominee this year, Heirman said, and he urged resort and hotel operators and restaurant owners to take advantage of them.

Michigan is the first state to offer assistance educationally to the tourist industry. Specialists from the college on tourist court planning, foods, water and sewage and other aspects are available, Heirman said.

Larry Girard, president of the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce, told the group of the JCC plans for a walleye festival this summer and enlisted their support. A meeting to make further plans will be held this afternoon at 4:30 in the Sherman hotel.

Good Year Indicated

Frank Beaudry of Ford River township reported that a petition to improve M-35's being circulated in Ford River, and Tom Quinn of this city and others reported that a petition was being sent to Lansing by the city and by the Chamber of Commerce here.

Some resort operators said last night they were already beginning to reject some reservations. Mrs. Guy Simpson reported that she has the largest group ever booked for May and June.

Albert Wickham of Rapid River, new to this area, declared fishing in Delta County is the best anywhere and told members of the assembly that Delta County has many possibilities when developed and promoted. He cited that in Roscommon county, the

DEFENDS ARCHERS

Gladstone, Mich.
March 15, 1949

Editor
Escanaba Daily Press
Escanaba, Mich.

In answer to the recent letter from Karl J. Hammar, I would like to point out that the bill being introduced in the state legislature, is not a new bill in this sense. It would include Delta County with the other counties of Upper Michigan allowing archers to take a deer of either sex. It has been in effect in a number of neighboring counties for two years and for a longer period in the lower peninsula. It is not a dangerous experiment.

As the bill has heretofore been contemplated it is discriminatory to the archers of Delta County, in that in Delta County alone, the archer must take a buck. It can't be because there aren't as many deer in Delta County as in neighboring counties. Is that the kind of advertising we want?

Isn't it certainly discriminatory against the hotel, resort and cabin owners of this county that they must be compelled by law to offer less to the archer tourist than our neighboring counties?

The statement that it is not sportsmanlike to kill antlerless deer is a sample of the unrealistic thinking, spawned in ignorance and nurtured on bias, that is hampering the conservation movement in this state today.

Why it is sportsmanlike to blow apart a deer that has three inches of horn between his ears and unsportsmanlike to do the same to one without, is too involved for me to follow. Certainly it must be equally so to the hundreds, yes many hundreds every year, who excitedly shoot a buck only to find after it is down, that it lacks the qualifications of sportsmanship. It has no horns! Heifers being better eating anyway, it is left where it fell or in the nearest brush pile to putrefy and fatten the coyotes.

The opening of a few additional counties to archers does not contemplate any "slaughter of the innocents" on the scale of the yearly toll of the 22 carrying headlighters, slug carrying bird hunters, or mistakes of the rifle season.

Another statement arising out of ignorance is "The deer are easy victims to the hunter the month of October". As an archer I say it isn't so. If you don't believe me either try it yourself or check the results where it has been tried.

There is no cause for alarm and the records will bear me out.
A. H. Wickman
Gladstone, Mich.

RUARK'S MAIL HITS NEW HIGH

Vets Write Pro And Con On Pension Plan

By ROBERT C. RUARK
New York, March 16—There is a moral in the mail, I think, on this itchy subject of the upcoming vote on the vast bonus—or pension—for veterans, which eventually is supposed to cost close to 200 billion bucks.

The moral is reasonably brief: Anybody'll accept a handout if he doesn't have to pay for it in advance.

I had more vehement mail on a piece I did sometime back, condemning Rep. Rankin's proposed $90 pension plan than on anything in a long, long time. Most of the letters blasting the bonus came from the veterans of World War I. Most of the letters favoring the bonus (and my sudden extinction) came from the veterans of World War II.

WW II Boys Say No
A simple equation, indeed—the World War I boys are ripe to cut the melon without much contribution to it in extra taxes. The WW II boys have a long, weary road of payment ahead before they achieve the collection age (65) and they don't like the idea of instalment purchase of something they may never need or may never live to collect.

There is an odd corollary here, too, on indignation. According to my mail, all veterans of World War I proceeded immediately to a breadline or to an apple-box on the corner. The capacity for whining, in the WW I man appears infinitely more robust than in his son. There seems to be no realization that the veterans of the second war were fledged in the same depression the old boys cherish as their very own, and were ripped untimely from their civilian lives at the moment they were just getting under way.

The oldsters sneer at our present prosperity, as if it were something the young vets dreamed-up especially to taunt them. There is no mention, however, of the boom years of the 20's, when the older claimants for pension had a decade of lush pickings to delve in. In their pleas for pension now, they ignore the fact that they were a small minority group during WWI, engaged in fighting a relatively short time on few fronts—and that the rest of the nation also suffered through the same depression.

War Widow Opposed

The letter that hit me hardest was from Mrs. J. O. Beasley, of Minneapolis. She writes: "Your article on (the Veterans Dole) pleased me very much. I am familiar with the whole problem. My husband didn't come back.

"I had to make a choice of (1) trying to provide a home and future for my son on $105 a month, of which $65 might be considered a widow's 'dole,' plus $40-a-month insurance...or (2) going to work.

"Obviously, going to work was the answer to... security. Later the allotment for the child was raised from $30 to $58—the month before November elections, incidentally.

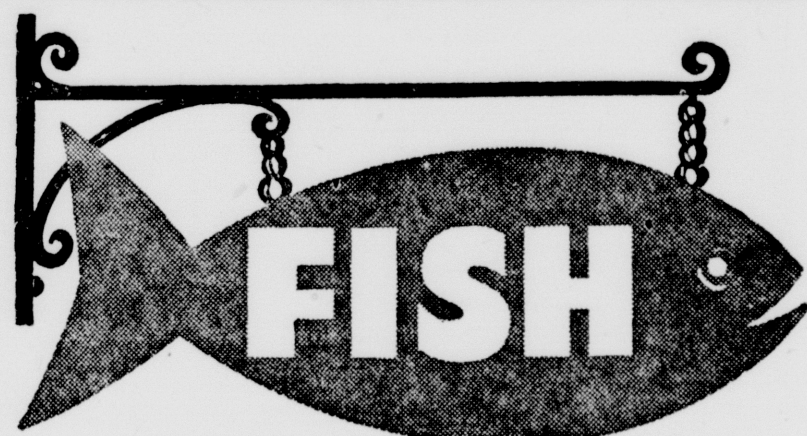

"Why should my earnings, and no doubt my son's future earnings, be taxed to support able-bodied men, many of whom never left the country? It's their country too, and they now profit by the victory as well as the rest of us."

From veterans of World War II: "I never once heard of a GI in combat areas talk about a bonus, let alone a pension. Most of us said we'd pay Uncle Sam to let us go home... 'as a veteran of five years service in the army, I am in full agreement with your article against pensions. I thought the gravy train had left, but this looks like the same station. 'I'll never forget the Vosges Mountain or the Citadel at Bitcher, but I still wouldn't vote for a vet pension. Couldn't it be Rep. Rankin is a veteran of World War I...?'"

"In November I severed a long association with the American Legion because of their stand on pensions, and enclose a copy of my letter of resignation... 'keep banging away at this idiotic pension scheme...'"

That's how the anti-Rankin sentiment runs. The pro-pensioners merely curse me for a capitalistic moron, who was born rich, which is real funny, and say that as long as we ladle it out to Europe, we might as well scatter it around at home. None made the point that operation ladle abroad is aimed at prevention of the creation of future candidates for future pension, whether they need it or not.

Delta County Gets $3,766.16 Share Of U.S. Forest Money

Checks totaling $253,458 were mailed last week to the nine states in the north central region of the U. S. Forest Service, according to Jay H. Price, regional forester. They represent 25 percent of the earnings of the national forest land in this region during the fiscal year 1948 and will be used for the benefit of public schools and public roads in the counties in which this land is located.

The seven states in which national forests are located received checks ranging from $1,172 to $92,528. Two other states, Iowa and North Dakota, contain no national forests but share in the returns because of small areas of land administered by the Forest Service.

The total paid to the states this year, said Mr. Price, is the highest to date, exceeding last year's payments by more than $53,000.

Upper Michigan counties will be allocated the following sums of money:

Hawatha national forest—Alcona, 111,527 acres, $1,883.99; Del-

Fr. Kenneth Ward To Conduct Retreat

The Rev. Kenneth Ward, Chicago, Ill., of the Passionist Fathers' order, will conduct the Upper Peninsula men's retreat to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 25, 26 and 27, at the Marygrove retreat center, Garden.

Fr. Ward, a noted speaker, who will deliver several important addresses during the retreat, also will conduct the retreat for girls to be held on the weekend of April 1-3.

The Rev. Francis A. McKay, of the Maryknoll (Penna.) Fathers' order, will be in charge of the retreat for boys, which will be held on the weekend of April 8-10.

Wayne Balmes, Marquette, district deputy of the Knights of Columbus for the Marquette area, is in charge of arrangements for the U. P. men's retreat. Reservations already have been received from Ishpeming, Negaunee, Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie, and a full quota is expected for the retreat.

Men interested in the retreat may sign up by writing to Balmes, Albert street, Marquette, or to the Rev. David P. Spelgatti, Locker Drawer 538, Marquette.

Diocesan groups interested in reserving dates for retreats at Marygrove should write to the Rev. James J. Schaefer, Marygrove, Garden, Mich.

Southpaws May Use Left-Handed Checks

Farmington, Mass., (AP)—The Farmington National Bank is making it easier for their left-handed depositors to spend money.

An official of the bank said left-handed check books are now available to its southpaw customers.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Hospital

Dennis Wellman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wellman, who has been receiving treatment at St. Francis hospital, has been dismissed.

Mrs. Gilbert LaBay has been admitted to St. Francis hospital for medical treatment.

The condition of Donald Prier, 18, of 515 South 10th street, who was admitted Monday to St. Francis hospital for treatment of pneumonia is reported good.

CANNING FIRM OFFICERS HERE

Will Discuss Plans For Rural Meets Tonight

Coleman Canning company officials will be here tonight to meet with Mayor Walter Lied, County Agricultural Agent Joe Heirman, a representative of the Retail Merchants association and Secretary Joe VanArman of the Chamber of Commerce to plan a group of four meetings with this city's rural neighbors in nearby areas.

The meetings are designed to show the farmers how the canning plant which is to be built here will benefit them.

At the conclusion of the meetings a dinner or barbecue for all is contemplated.

Secretary Van Arman states that in addition to beans, the Coleman company plans on canning sweet corn and tomatoes.

FORMER HOLDUP
MAN ARRESTED

Turned Over To Police
At St. Ignace

Isadore Houghton, 24, of Engadine, was placed under arrest here while riding on a west bound Soo Line train last Tuesday evening and then turned over to authorities at St. Ignace where he is wanted on a breaking and entering charge.

Sheriff Howard Hewitt and members of the state police made the arrest. Money of an undisclosed amount was found on his person and police state that he admitted that he and an accomplice entered several business establishments in that city and committed robberies.

Houghton was sentenced to

Testimonial Dinner Held
For Retiring Cruiser

A testimonial dinner was held Tuesday evening for Carl E. Christensen, who is retiring from twenty-two years of continuous service as timber cruiser for the Manistique Pulp and Paper company.

Mr. Christensen has built up an enviable reputation in the eastern half of the peninsula, his stakes and corner posts which he has set up are usually accepted by others.

Mr. Christensen attended school at Bark River, and was associated with his father, James Christensen, in woods operations which they conducted in and around Manistique since 1905. He had also conducted operations of his own as well as with his brothers, particularly in Hiawatha Township.

The testimonial dinner was attended by the foresters and officials of the company and also by W. H. Hildebrand and Elmer Kloss from the Escanaba Paper company. Russell Watson was toastmaster, and brief talks were given by J. Joseph Herbert, Robert E. Schmeling, W. H. Hildebrand and R. C. Hentschell.

Mrs. Lillian Greenwood of the Cloverland Lodge, who has been on the sick list for the past few days, is now recuperating.

Marineite Radio
Man Addresses
Manistique Lions

Joseph Makin, a representative of Radio Station WMAM of Marineite, Wis., addressed the Manistique Lions club at its regular meeting Tuesday evening.

In his talk, Mr. Makin traced the development of the radio industry from its crude beginning to its highly specialized present state, also showing movies of a present day radio station in operation.

He stated that it has been found that as a general thing, towns of less than 12,000 find it hard to operate a station successfully. PM radio stations, he said, have not created a serious demand on the part of the public as the area of broadcast is strictly limited—to about forty miles.

Television, he said, is having considerable difficulty in financing its programs.

Plymouth's new special deluxe four-door sedan (above). Throughout the new Plymouth line beautifully streamlined bodies are lower and narrower, seats are wider and headroom greater. At the same time overall exterior dimensions are reduced, but wheelbase has been lengthened to 118 inches and glass area is increased. Horsepower is raised to 97. Although fenders flow gracefully into the body they are detachable for ease in repair.

"The lights are low, the music starts.
Can you not hear fast-beating hearts?"What will the actors do and say?
What will they sing and what will they play?"—Anon.

The answers to such questions, pertaining to current drama, were skillfully demonstrated to members of the Manistique Women's Club at their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon by the talented local reader of great repute, Mrs. Gordon Hughes, Mrs. Hughes, an adroit and avid student of the theatre, play-writing, stage settings and stage directing, enlightened, entertained and stimulated her audience with her expert interpretation and review of present season's plays and some works from several outstanding new playwrights.

"Women like wholesome plays with a nostalgic charm. The worthwhile plays are somber in tone. Tho' it has been said 'the stage holds a mirror up to life' we dislike the idea that life may be as sordid as some of the current shows present it to be," the speaker said as she proceeded to describe Eugene O'Neill's "The Ice Man Cometh"; Tennessee Williams "A Streetcar Named Desire"; and "Death Of A Salesman" by Arthur Miller. Mrs. Hughes paid tribute to the direction of Elia Kazan and the stage settings by Jo Mielziner which contribute so much to the staging of a success. She concluded her lecture with some skilful portrayals of characters in significant scenes in current plays.

Socialized Medicine
Harry Heffner, field secretary of the Michigan State Medical Society, in a well-delivered ten minute speech outlined reasons for his group being adverse to the Ewing Report and socialized medicine.

During the business meeting, it was voted to send two girls to the Older Girls' Conference. It was also announced that the Manistique Women's Club had been bequeathed $200 from the estate of the late Dave Yalomstein.

Mrs. Kenneth White, general chairman in charge of the annual luncheon, announced the final meeting will be held, Tuesday, April 5, at 1:15 o'clock at Blaney Park.

Mrs. O. J. Schuster gave an interesting report on poetry for the literature committee and also read Mrs. Russell Watson's annual report for that committee. Other annual reports were given by: Mrs. George Wood, legislative committee; Mrs. Franklyn Burgess, art committee; Mrs. Alvin Nelson, magazine distribution.

Art Exhibit
Another highlight of Tuesday's meeting was the fine exhibit of sketches made by the local art class conducted by the adult education system of the Manistique high school, under the supervision of E. J. Thompson, local artist. These sketches in pen and ink, pencil, charcoal, pastel and water color mediums, showed great progress and in several instances, great ability and talent for the twenty-five enthusiastic art students.

Tea was served from an attractively appointed table in the St. Patrick's day motif by the following hostesses: Mrs. Elwood Taylor, chairman; the Mesdames E. J. Thompson, Wilford Moreau, Donald McLean, William Kefauver, C. P. McNamara, Vic Schuster and Fred Bernhardt.

Officers Elected
Mrs. C. E. Anderson was re-elected president of the Manistique Women's Club at the annual election of officers, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Carl Anderson is vice-president, Mrs. C. E. Moore, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Omer Dybek, treasurer, Mrs. Leon Nicholson and Mrs. A. F. Hall, directors.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all the kind relatives, neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us during the illness and death of our beloved father and grandfather, John C. Cook. We are very grateful to Rev. Fr. Schevers and Rev. Fr. Berendsen; to those who served as pallbearers; donated the use of cars, sent floral and spiritual offerings, and to all others who aided us in so many ways. Your kindness will always be held in grateful remembrance.

The John Cook family4-H Clubs Of County To Hold
Achievement Show

The spring 4-H achievement program, when members from all parts of the county display their projects, will be held Monday and Tuesday, April 4 and 5.

Exhibits will be set up on April 4 in the Lincoln school gymnasium and open house will be held that evening from 7 to 8:30 o'clock. The program will be held at the Oak theatre the next morning from 9:15 until 1:30 in the afternoon.

Display space for the exhibits will be ready at 10 o'clock on the morning of April 4. Each club will be responsible for setting up and removing its own exhibits. All exhibits should be in place by noon and judging will start at one o'clock. Exhibits should be arranged on tables in the order appearing on the enrollment blanks and should be labeled.

There will be a style revue of clothing made by 4-H members in connection with the program.

Although scientists believe the energy of the world is constant and that no new energy can be created, scientists for centuries have been attempting—unsuccessfully—to create a perpetual motion machine which would run without fuel.

Illegal Fishing
Charge Against
Local Man Dropped

Charges of taking fish illegally by use of reefed nets made against Ellsworth Davenport, local commercial fisherman, were dropped, when he appeared in justice court in Escanaba Wednesday morning.

Davenport was arrested near Nahma about two weeks ago. Judge H. E. Ranguette, before whom the case was called ordered dismissal of the case upon motion to that effect made by County Prosecutor J. Clyde McGonagle who pleaded insufficient evidence to prosecute.

GAMES TOMORROW NIGHT
Class B
8 p. m.—Cooks-Cloverland winner vs. Trout Creek-Amberg winner.
9 p. m.—Hermansville Foxes vs. Quinnesec.

10 p. m.—Escanaba Delta Hardware vs. Iron River Bears.
11 p. m.—Peshigo Rockets vs. Channing.

Hermansville, March 17—Escanaba Wait Window annexed its second victory in Hermansville's Gold Medal independent basketball tournament in a 34-33 thriller with Iron Mountain Al's Juke Box quintet last night.

Tonight, the Waits face their stiffest test to date, however, when they tangle with the fast Hermansville Hiawathas, a 72-60 victor over Michigan yesterday.

Ed Hendrickson was the big wheel in Wait's squeak past the Juke Box boys from Dickinson county. Big Ed wheeled in five buckets and four free throws for 14 points. Bob Blue, Iron Mountain, former Kingsford high school star, dipped in 12 counters.

In a nip-and-tuck affair all the way, Wait led 10-6 at the quarter but trailed, 15-13, at halftime. It still trailed 28-26 going into the last period but an 8-5 edge, thanks to two timely free throws in the waning moments, gave Wait the victory.

John Perry's 27 points for Michigan weren't enough to cope with Hermansville Hiawathas. Milt Allard, Leno Pieropen, and Mel Sandrin hit 24, 17, and 15 points, respectively, in Hiawathas' 72-60 win over Michigan.

Dick Berger hit 23 to pace Manistique to its 52-42 win over Nahma. Babe Anderson and Rosely hit 10 and 15 for the losers.

Reno Fochesato and Ernest Massignan each collected nine as Hermansville Joe's Tavern disposed of Menominee McClellands, 40-29.

Clearing the quarterfinal Class B state, the Class A contenders will fire their opening shots in the independent classic tomorrow night.

The defending champion Escanaba Delta Hardware's open against the Iron River Bears at 10, Escanaba time.

Boston Hesitant About Sewing Up 2nd In NHL Race

(By The Associated Press)
The Boston Bruins are hesitant about sewing up the resurient spot in the National Hockey league.

The Bean Town lads had a good chance last night to put the No. 2 rung in the final standings under virtual lock and key. Instead they lost their first game to the Chicago Blackhawks on Boston ice this season, 4-3.

This further complicated the first division picture. Second place Boston now has only one game to play and can be beaten out by the Montreal Canadiens, who have three left.

Should Boston win its final game and Montreal take three in a row, the Bruins would wind up with 66 points and the Canadiens with 67.

While the four first division teams have already clinched places in the Stanley Cup playoffs, the only spot that's definitely settled is the top one, held by the Detroit Red Wings.

The Wings, with the championship already clinched, added an unneeded victory last night by humbling the last place New York Rangers, 6-2.

Connie Mack Optimistic On St. Patrick's Day

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 17 (AP)—At the age of 36 when most men are wheeling their cases, Connie Mack sits in the Philadelphia Athletics dugout and talks about one more pennant.

If an Irishman can't be optimistic on St. Patrick's day then life isn't worth living, Mr. Mack is

Hardwares And VFW To Tangle March 27 In Special Benefit

The Escanaba Delta Hardware and VFW quintet will tangle in the William Bonifas gymnasium at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, March 27, for the benefit of the children's retreat at Marygrove. The retreat house in Garden, it was announced today.

Students of Escanaba, Gladstone, St. Joseph's and Wells will sponsor the special basketball attractions, proceeds from which will go to Marygrove.

The rivals have met many times this season, with the Hardware, reigning champion of Upper Peninsula independent basketball having the edge. The VFW, however, never gives an inch to the Hardware and will be out to duplicate an earlier win over their arch rivals.

Preceding the main game will be a preliminary at 1:15 between Webster and St. Joseph's students.

College Puckmen Fly To Tourney; Plenty Of Wings

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
New York, March 17 (AP)—Word from the Giants' training camp is that Leo Durocher is getting excited about a kid outfielder named Gail Henley; Gail's former Southern California teammate, Wally Hood, is still chucking for the Yankees, although he likely will return to Newark, and big Frank Quinn from Yale is attracting favorable attention from the Red Sox. He'll stick, and not just because he's a bonus player.

That's not a bad showing from a bunch of kids who were playing for the college championship last spring. In addition, John Fiacchini from California's 1947 NCAA champs, is getting a trial with the Pirates and a whole flock of boys from those three teams are in the top minors and looking for big league careers.

Roundball Records
The Baxley, Ga., high school girls' basketball team recently won its third consecutive state championship and stretched its winning streak to 109 games in a row. They must have aces back to Baxley. And in Iowa, Diagonal high school, with an enrollment of 35 boys, reached the state game final tournament for the eleventh time in 19 years. Would you say Diagonal gives the tourney a fresh slant?

End Of The Line
Vadal Peterson, Utah basketball coach, hurt his back again getting off the bench in a hurry Monday and isn't sure he'll be able to coach a team in the East-West game. The Tri-Cities club of the National Basketball league is ready to grab off Loyola's Jack Kerris as soon as the invitation tournament ends although the Chicago stage also are after him. Something new was added to the NCAA hockey championships when the Dartmouth, Boston College and Michigan teams travelled to Colorado Springs in the same plane. That was one flying machine with plenty of wings.

HETTICHE SIX LEADING
Windsor, Ont., March 17 (AP)—The Hettiche Spitfires are the only one more victory in the International Hockey league playoffs to become Northern Division champions. Hettiche whipped the Detroit Auto club 6 to 3 last night to go three games up in the best-of-four playoff series. The two teams play their fourth game here tomorrow night.

JOE'S HEEL
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 17 (AP)—The New York Yankees promised a statement today regarding the condition of Joe Di Maggio. The Yankee Clipper has been bothered by his heel which was operated on during the winter. His physician, Dr. George both Irish and optimistic starting his 49th season as manager of the A's.

"At first I thought Cleveland had it clinched but I changed my mind," said Mack in his annual guess, "I think we have a chance along with New York and Boston. Cleveland has to win again to prove that it's a good team."

"Our club is about the same. Good defense but we don't hit. Our pitching is fine. I never saw an infield that could throw as good as ours."

"The main change is reserves. Injuries hurt us last year when we surprised you fellows. Sam Chapman was out a month. Elmer Valo was out two different times. Then when Eddie Joost hurt his hand in August we were done for. Now we have Wally Moses and Taft Wright to fill in as outfield reserves and pinch hitters."

The A's were generally overlooked last spring. Many experts' faces were red when they climbed into the American league race and remained there until late August. On paper they didn't rate but they were there all the way until Joost was injured. They finished fourth.

Darkhorse of 1949 is a shopworn but suitable tag for the Mackmen. Mr. Mack said the other day he was going to let his son, Earl take active charge of the field work of the A's while he would sit on the bench and score.

"I'm not going to open my mouth," he said. Nobody believed him, Earl least of all.

If the A's are standing pat on players they did add a new coach, Jimmy Dykes is back with his old boss again. He'll help Al Simmons on the lines.

Pancho Out For Triple Tennis Win

New York, March 17 (AP)—Richard (Pancho) Gonzales begins his quest for an unprecedented triple crown today in the opening session of the National Indoor Tennis championships.

The 20-year-old Mexican-American youth from Los Angeles will try to add the indoor title to the National Indoor and National Clay Court championships he already holds.

No player ever has won all three crowns simultaneously. Sevens have held the turf and clay titles at the same time but only four—Jack Kramer, Rene LaCoste, Bill Tilden and Bobby Riggs—have captured the indoor championship while reigning as outdoor king.

Chief threat to young Pancho's ambitions in this 46th annual tournament at the Seventh Regiment Armory is the defending indoor champion, Billy Talbert of New York.

Unlike Gonzales, who is taking his first fling at the indoor game, Talbert is perfectly at home on the polished boards.

Both are among half a dozen seeded players scheduled to see action on today's program of 25 matches, all of them in the men's singles division. Fred Kovaleski of Detroit, William and Mary college player who is rated seventh, meets Frank J. Bowden of Madison, N. J., a three-time runner-up.

LOUIS SCORES TKO
Houston, Tex., March 17 (AP)—Joe Louis scored a technical knockout over Elmer (Violet) Ray in the fourth round of a scheduled six-round exhibition bout last night. The heavyweight champion, who recently announced his retirement, dropped Ray just as the third round ended. The Florida fighter failed to come out for the fourth round.

HANNAGAN DID IT
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 17 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals took a holiday today, with no game and no practice. The idea for a St. Patrick's day vacation was that of Bob Hannagan, former postmaster general, who set up the spring exhibition schedule before he sold the club to Fred Saigh, Jr.

Bennett of Baltimore, arrived here yesterday for a vacation.

Upper Michigan's three contenders in the state high school basketball tournament—Ishpeming, Negaunee and Gwinn—came through victorious in their opening tests downstate last night and tomorrow night will swing into semifinal engagements.

Gwinn scored a lopsided victory over Onkama, 74-43, and tomorrow night will face the Dearborn Edison Institute cagers, one of three unbeaten teams left in the tournament and victor over Webberville, 43-21, last night.

Quarterfinal RESULTS LAST NIGHT
Ishpeming 34, Traverse City 31.
Negaunee 37, Charlevoix 30.
Gwinn 74, Onkama 43.

SEMIFINALS TOMORROW
Class B—Grand Rapids Godwin Heights vs. Coldwater, 7:30 p. m., and Ishpeming vs. River Rouge, 9 p. m., at Lansing Sexton High.

Class C—Hart vs. Kalamazoo St. Augustine, 7:30 p. m., and Negaunee vs. Roseville-Eastland, 9 p. m., at MSC Jensen gym floor.

Class D—St. Joseph Catholic vs. Harbor Beach Ollh, 7:30 p. m., and Gwinn vs. Dearborn Edison Institute, 9 p. m., at Lansing Boys' Vocational school.

Upper Michigan's three contenders in the state high school basketball tournament—Ishpeming, Negaunee and Gwinn—came through victorious in their opening tests downstate last night and tomorrow night will swing into semifinal engagements.

Gwinn scored a lopsided victory over Onkama, 74-43, and tomorrow night will face the Dearborn Edison Institute cagers, one of three unbeaten teams left in the tournament and victor over Webberville, 43-21, last night.

St. Joseph Catholic, considered a top class D contender, just squeaked by Hopkins, 35-33, and tomorrow will face Harbor Beach Ollh, surprise winner over Weidman, 49-39.

Ishpeming decided Traverse City, 34-31, and is slated to face River Rouge, 44-42 winner over Farmington. In the other Class B bracket, Grand Rapids looked unimpressive in edging Davidson, 37-30, and tomorrow will meet the Class B favorite, Coldwater, an easy winner over Alma.

The Negaunee Miners showed power in disposing of Charlevoix, 37-30, as Roseville-Eastland, Negaunee foe tomorrow night, eliminated Saginaw St. Andrew, 52-46, for its twenty-third straight triumph.

Like Gwinn, the Negaunee Miners also face an undefeated opponent tomorrow night. Len Betcher and Carl Lindquist scored 17 each to help Roseville keep its record clear.

In the other half of the Class C bracket, Kalamazoo St. Augustine slipped into the role of Class C favorite by trimming Jackson St. John, 44-28, and Hart coasted to a 55-33 win over Houghton Lake.

Saginaw Arthur Hill, unbeaten Class A favorite, advanced to the semifinals with a 48-37 victory over Bay City Central. Ferndale surprised Pontiac, 40-29, to gain the semifinals for the first time in history. Battle Creek won over Dearborn, 53-49, and Kalamazoo Central made an early lead hold up for a 40-43 triumph over Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills.

In the Class A field, Ferndale and Kalamazoo tangle at the MSC Jensen fieldhouse floor at 9 tomorrow night, and Saginaw Arthur Hill has it out with Battle Creek in the opener at 7:30.

Sports Briefs

Bradenton, Fla.—Jeff Heath, Boston Braves outfielder, ended his holdout and agreed to contract terms.

Des Moines—Warren Gaer, football coach at Pepperdine college, was named head football coach at Drake University.

West Palm Beach, Fla.—Henry Ransom, St. Andrews, Ill., won the top professional prize in the Seminole pro-amateur golf tournament with a 36-hole score of 137.

Kansas City—Oklahoma A. and M. won the NCAA fifth district basketball berth by defeating Nebraska, 52 to 34.

DARTBALL DATA
The Birds Eye dartball team won two games from the Firemen last night, 9-2 and 6-5. The Firemen copped the third game in 11 innings, 7 to 6. Press Editors defaulted to the Eagles.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS "It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Congratulations to those rugged Marquette county teams for scoring a clean sweep in their first tests in downstate competition in the Michigan high school basketball tournament last night.

The whole U. P. is proud of Ishpeming, Negaunee and Gwinn, and Marquette county is fairly busting at the seams for fathering three Upper Peninsula champions in one season and having a fourth, National Mine, in the finals.

Coach C. C. Watson's tournament-wise Ishpeming Hematites will be busy tomorrow against River Rouge. Negaunee and Gwinn have plenty of work cut out for them also.

There are only three undefeated teams left in the state tournament, Saginaw Arthur Hill in Class A, Roseville-Eastland in Class C and Dearborn Edison Institute in Class D, and Negaunee and Gwinn must face two of them tomorrow night.

Roseville and Dearborn are undefeated to date, that's true, but—if you'll permit a bit of peninsula pride—to date they haven't met Negaunee and Gwinn.

Negaunee and Gwinn have poise and polish and are not awed by downstate competition. Don't be too surprised if they snap those victory strings and go into the championship finals.

Cuff notes: L. O. Gant, business manager and registrar of Northern Michigan College of Education, has succeeded Northern's coach, Red Money, as president of the Upper Peninsula Intercollegiate Athletic conference. Other officers are James Myers, Soo Tech athletic director, vice president, and John Kendrigan, Northern college (Ashland, Wis.) secretary-treasurer. The group met recently to draw up track, golf and tennis schedules.

Marquette was selected as the site of the conference track, tennis and golf championships, and the conference basketball tournament for 1950 will be held at Gogebic Junior college, Ironwood, Feb. 23-25. Northland won the 1948-49 basketball title with a 7-1 record. Others finished as follows: Northern 6-2, Soo Tech 4-3, Gogebic 2-5 and Suomi, 0-8.

Now that the hubbub about the Packer-Bear game has subsided, the 1949 Green Bay schedule has been announced but dates were withheld, pending final approval by Commissioner Bert Bell. But this we know: Chicago Bear, Los Angeles Ram and New York Giant games will be played in Green Bay. Chicago Cardinal, Detroit Lion and Pittsburgh Steeler games will be played in Milwaukee. That's right from the horse's mouth—Curley Lambeau, no less!

2nd NCAA Hockey Meet On Tonight; U-M Defends Title

Colorado Springs, Colo., March 17 (AP)—Nearly all of the top skaters and stickmen of last year's tournament are back for the second running of the National Collegiate Hockey championships, opening tonight.

The teams that fought in the 1948 finals—Michigan's defending champions and Dartmouth—will face off in the opener at 8:15 p. m., Mountain Standard Time, in the Broadmoor Ice Palace.

Boston College, the class of New England ice hockey, and Colorado College will tangle tomorrow night for the other finalist spot. The winners meet Saturday night while the losers will be matched in a consolation contest at 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

These are the same four teams that played last year in the N. C. A. A. first hockey tournament.

Coach Vic Heyliger's Wolverines will bid for a second title with a tested front line of Al Renfrew, Gordon McMillan and Wally Gacek. Michigan's dynamo, though, is defense man Connie Hill, most colorful player in the tourney a year ago.

No team with the brothers Riley-Joe and Bill-at the wings can be rated lightly, and Dartmouth's big green will rely on them to fetch a St. Patrick's Day victory over its conquerors of 1948. Joe Riley paced Eddie Jeremiah's Indians this season with 76 points while his older brother made 74. A sophomore, Jack Mulhern, developed into Boston College's most dangerous scorer this season with 61 points in the regular campaign. Coach John Kelley's Eagles have their mighty defenders of last year, big Ed Songin and Bernie Burke, the tournament's top goaltender.

Colorado College, although not favored, should be a tough number on its home ice, with Dick Rowell and Joe Slattery riding herd on its offense.

Both Michigan and Boston have been beaten only once each this season. The Wolverines have won 19 and tied three while B. C. has won 19 of its 20 outings. Dartmouth has a 16-5 record, Colorado College 1-5 plus a tie with Michigan.

Cinderella Quintets Will Clash Tonight In National Tourney

New York, March 17 (AP)—Four Cinderella teams battle tonight in the semifinals of the National Invitation basketball tournament.

Loyola of Chicago, conqueror of mighty Kentucky, meets Bradley, upset winner over Western Kentucky, at 8 o'clock (EST) in Madison Square Garden. San Francisco, which nipped third-seeded Utah in the final seconds, engages Bowling Green, surprise victor over St. Louis, at 9:45.

These four teams—of the 12 that started the tournament—weren't even supposed to still be in town. The script called for them to bow out gracefully during Monday's games. Instead they tossed the script out the window in the greatest series of upsets in basketball history.

Ever since Monday night the guys who like to wager a dollar or two on the college boys have been scurrying around trying to find "the line." This morning Bowling Green was favored by five points and Loyola by three.

None of the four teams has ever won the invitation. Loyola reached the finals in 1939, the only other time it was entered.

Bowling Green has tried four times previously, getting as far as the finals in 1945. Bradley has been in it three times, but never past the semifinal round. San Francisco is trying its luck for the first time.

The original seedings, which were wiped away Monday, listed Bradley fifth, followed in order by San Francisco, Bowling Green and Loyola.

Bowling Green, which owns the poorest season's record of the bunch, is riding the crest of a 15-game winning streak that dates back to Jan. 11 when it lost to Kentucky by two points. Altogether the Falcons have won 23 and lost six, including their two tournament victories. Bradley has the best mark—27 and six. Loyola won 24 while losing five and San Francisco won 23 and lost five.

The finals will be played Saturday night with tonight's losers meeting in a third-place game.

U. P. Lions' Pin Tourney In Gladstone

Gladstone, March 17—The annual Upper Peninsula Lions Bowling tournament is to be held in Gladstone at the Midway alleys April 16 to May 8, it was announced yesterday by Walter VanDeWeghe, secretary of the Gladstone Bowling league.

It will be a handicap tournament and five-man team, doubles and singles events will be held. Each contestant must be a bona-fide member of some Upper Peninsula Lions club.

For the first time in the history of local bowling a city tournament is to be staged this spring and this will be conducted at the Midway April 25 to May 12.

This also will be a handicap tourney and the events will be a five-man team, doubles and singles.

East Lansing, Mich., March 17 (AP)—Michigan State College football fans waited anxiously today for some word on whether MSC will lose grid coaches Forrest Evashevski and La Verne (Kip) Taylor.

Evashevski reported yesterday he was still trying to decide whether to head west and talk about the head football coaching job at Oregon State.

Taylor was on his way home from Syracuse university, where he was interviewed by Athletic Director Lew Andreas—currently engaged in picking a new head grid mentor.

It was well known that Spartan end coach Taylor is a strong candidate for the job, but neither he nor Andreas had anything to say after yesterday's discussion.

Evashevski, meanwhile, said he expected to decide in "a day or two" whether to journey to Corvallis, Ore., for job talks with Oregon State heads.

LEAD WITH ACE
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 17 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers led with their ace today as Manager Red Rolfe named Hal Newhouser, top American League winner of 1948, to hurl an exhibition game against the New York Yankees. It was the first Grapefruit league clash for Detroit with a rival from the American League. Yesterday's 7-2 victory over the Boston Braves left the Tigers with an even break in four games with National League clubs.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all the kind neighbors and friends who assisted us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved sister, Margaret Wade. We are very grateful to those who served as pallbearers, sent floral and spiritual messages, donated the use of their cars and to all others who aided us in so many ways. The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us.

Signed,
